

On March 26th we held our 'Microscopy, Work and Performance' webinar with Professor Peter Buckle from the Robens Institute. During the webinar we held a number of polls to see if our customers experienced any work related issues. Below are the results...

of attendees suffered from work related eye strain of attendees suffered from work related headaches of attendees suffered from work related back ache of attendees suffered from work related arm/wrist pain of attendees suffered from work related sore neck and shoulders